A game to get the conversation started. All you need are these cards and willingness to have fun! Most of the questions are probably best suited for those ages 10-adults, but we have developed one card with 10 questions for the younger ones. Look for it near the back.

Enjoy the game and keep the conversation going!

Here are some questions we suggest you ponder when it comes to underage alcohol use. You don't have to answer them but we suggest you think them through.

When it comes to drinking and driving, would you rather call someone for a ride or drive home under the influence and risk getting a DUI and possibly causing a crash?

When it comes to underage alcohol use, would you rather say "No" and stay safe or "Yes" and run the risk of getting in trouble with the law and/or kicked off of a sports team?

Parents can be a wonderful resource teens often overlook. Would you rather talk to your parents (or other significant adult) about the challenges you face and allow them to help you avoid trouble situations or go it alone and run the risk of getting in trouble?
